Appearing in the Adams County Courtroom on Dec. 1, Carla Tranmer was arraigned at a preliminary hearing for the charge of Endangerment of a Child- a Class C Felony, Possession of Drug Paraphernalia- a Class A Misdemeanor, and three counts of Possession of a Controlled Substance- a Class A Misdemeanor.

Southwest District Judge Rhonda Ehlis ruled that the prosecution had met the low burden of probable cause necessary to proceed with a trial. The defense filed a plea of ‘Not Guilty’ on all counts.

Adams County Chief Deputy Jeff Gooss testified at the hearing advising the court that his investigation into illicit activity in and around Carla’s Corner Café began several months back in February. Gooss continued to testify that he made several observations indicative of illegal activity at the place of business in addition to conducting traffic stops and drug interdiction techniques of patrons and employees of Carla’s that lead to drug-related arrests.

According to Gooss, Joel Bonomo, Carla’s significant other, was placed under arrest for drug charges in September. At that time, Bonomo admitted that meth had been “coming and going” out of the business, and that he had conducted multiple drug transactions out of the back of Carla’s Corner Café.

Following Bonomo’s arrest, the Sheriff’s Office acquired a warrant to search Tranmer’s residence, Carla’s Corner Café, and Carmel’s Cleaner’s- another local business.

During his testimony, Gooss advised the court that a 5ml oxycodone pill was in Tranmer’s office at the restaurant. In the residence, multiple glass smoking devices were discovered in addition to small baggies with a white powder residue- all of which field tested positive for methamphetamine.

A container labeled ‘Peyote’ was also seized.

Officers also discovered, in the residence, a room in the basement that appeared to accommodate Tranmer’s 6-year-old granddaughter. Prescription medication, not belonging to Tranmer’s granddaughter, was found in the child’s room.

“Nothing that was found was outside the reach of the 6-year-old,” testified Gooss.

The minor child was also present at the time the search warrant was executed on Sept. 8.

A date for trial has yet to be determined.

SINGERS >>

not something I would work out to. I like bombastic songs that drown out my heavy breathing and the sound of my thighs scraping together, and I’ve been told by many that I have terrible taste in music. And judging by the audiences I saw in the YouTube videos of the Hegland Family Singers, it’s safe to say that their music isn’t necessarily tuned to my demographic. That being said, I have to admit that the songs I listened to while visiting with Carole were simply nice. It was just nice, relaxing, put-your-feet up and let the music flow kind of sound. And perhaps, as I get older, the cowboy notes played by the Hegland Family Singers will not only pluck at the strings of a banjo, but at my heart as well.

If I learned anything from my visit with Carole, it was a reminder to try new things, put yourself out there, and express your creativity as much as possible. And above all, share said creativity with your family and friends- your most beloved audience.

If you’d like to get your hands on a Hegland Family Singers album, give Carole a jingle at 701-567-2361. If you’d like to reserve the band for your next event, e-mail your inquiry to c_rosencrans@hotmail.com
