Extension to host Medicare open enrollment webinar

NDSU Extension is hosting a free webinar focused on Medicare open enrollment, a yearly period when Medicare beneficiaries can review and change their health and prescription drug plans for the upcoming year. The 2024 open enrollment period is October 15 through December 7.

The webinar will be October 9 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. CDT via Zoom. Current Medicare beneficiaries, those new to Medicare, family members, caregivers and others interested in learning more are invited to attend.

Attendees will learn how Medicare Part D coverage works and the differences between original Medicare and Medicare Advantage Plans. Other topics include upcoming Medicare changes for 2025 and important factors Medicare beneficiaries should consider when reviewing their plan options. Attendees will also learn how to protect themselves against Medicare open enrollment fraud.

Presenters are Stefanie Fogel with the ND Insurance Department and Brenda Munson with the ND Senior Medicare Patrol project.

Fogel is a Medicare State Health Insurance Program counselor with over 23 years of experience within the health insurance industry. She works with the ND State Health Insurance Assistance Program to help people understand Medicare and the different options available to them. She also advocates when people are having problems with their insurance and guides them on how to rectify their situations.

Munson is the project manager and complex issue specialist with the ND Senior Medicare

Patrol project at the ND Center for Persons with Disabilities at Minot State University. She supervises all activities associated with Medicare fraud outreach and education and assists beneficiaries with Medicare fraud-related issues. Munson has worked with Medicare fraud for the last 15 years.

"We are excited to partner with the North Dakota Insurance Department and the North Dakota Senior Medicare Patrol to offer this educational opportunity on such an important and complex topic impacting the health of older adults," says Jane Strommen, North Dakota State University Extension gerontology specialist.

Motorists should watch for deer

Motorists should watch for deer along roadways this time of year as juvenile animals disperse from their home ranges.

October through early December is the peak period for deer-vehicle accidents. Motorists are advised to slow down and exercise caution after dark to reduce the likelihood of encounters with deer. Most deer-vehicle accidents occur primarily at dawn and dusk when deer are most often moving around.

When you see one deer cross the road, look for a second or third deer to follow. Also, pay attention on roadways posted with Deer Crossing Area caution signs.

Deer-vehicle accidents are at times unavoidable. If an accident does happen, law enforcement authorities do not have to be notified if only the vehicle is damaged. However, if the accident involves personal injury or other property damage, then it must be reported.

In addition, a permit is required before taking possession of a roadkill deer. Permits are free and available from game wardens and local law enforcement.

A few precautions can minimize chances of injury or property damage in a deer-vehicle crash.

- Always wear your seat belt.
- Don't swerve or take the ditch to avoid hitting a deer. Try to brake as much as possible and stay on the roadway. Don't lose control of your vehicle or slam into something else to miss the deer. You risk less injury by hitting the deer.
- If you spot deer ahead, slow down immediately and honk.
