Greff scores 1,000th career point

LUANN DART

A senior for the Grant County/Mott-Regent (GCMR) girls basketball team, Samantha Greff scored the 1,000th point of her varsity career last week. Greff needed eight points in the game against New England Jan. 6 to reach her 1,000th career point, so the feat was accomplished in the first quarter on the New England court.

The 1,000th point came at 2:44 in the first quarter, with an inbound under GCMR's basket from Jada Ottmar to Greff in the paint. Greff took the off-balance shot to put the score at 8-14 for GCMR.

"I was pretty nervous, but excited. I wanted to get it in the first half to get it done and over with, and then focus on the game," Greff said.

Greff has been playing varsity basketball since seventh-grade, scoring 12 points that season as her first varsity points, and has been a starter since her sophomore year.

"I love basketball," she said with a laugh. "I love it so much."

"We knew she was getting it that day and we all have the support behind her. We just love her to death and we want all the support we can give to her. So, when we know that she's getting something that important in her life, we really just wanted to be there for her. I was so excited for her, and she deserves the world and that was one of the best players to get it," said one of Greff's teammates, Summer Meyer.

"Sam is just a very mellow person, so she brings the calmness to everyone," Head Coach Sara Seidler said. "She works hard and she understands the game and she wants the best for everybody. She's just a great kid."

"She's had to face adversity in her life, but she's a strong girl that always puts a smile on her face," Seidler said. "Seeing her strength really motivates me every day, too. The growth that they show sometimes and the maturity really just makes you proud as a coach."
