Stanley Public Library News

Stanley Public Library's hours are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. Patrons may call the library (628-2223) or send an email to www.stanleyndllibrary@gmail.com to renew materials.

The Friends of the Library offer Senior Book Delivery to senior citizens, including a selection of large print and audio books. Call Kelly at the library, 628-2223, to sign up to have library books delivered to your home once a month.

The library is offering "eco-friendly" book bags for sale for a fee each. These bags may be used each time you visit the library or for other shopping. This allows patrons to recycle regular plastic bags and support the library by purchasing one of the book bags. The Friends of the Library Stanley playing cards are available for a fee per deck. These cards make a great souvenir or gift.

Find more Stanley Library information online, including the online card catalog and the Libby App by visiting www.stanleyndllibrary.com.

AARP Fraud Alert:
Toll Road Scams

If your phone's been lighting up with messages saying you owe a road toll, you're not alone. Criminals are blasting out fake texts pretending to be from government agencies or toll services. Their goal? To scare or rush you into clicking a link, handing over personal info or making a payment.

Here's what you need to know: legitimate toll agencies don't collect payment via text message, and they won't threaten you over a missed toll.

If you get a message about unpaid tolls, do not respond or click on any links, even if it looks legit. Instead, check your account using the state tolling agency or transponder company's legitimate website or phone number, not information from the message.

Learn how to spot and avoid scams with AARP Fraud Watch Network™ Suspect a scam? Call our free helpline at 877-908-3360 and talk to one of our fraud specialists about what to do next.

Physical Therapy Students At UND School
Of Medicine And Health Sciences Receive
Scholarships For 2025-26

The Department of Physical Therapy (PT) at the UND School of Medicine and Health Sciences has awarded scholarships to several students for the upcoming academic year. Funds for the scholarships are given from various private sources, endowments, and scholarship funds.

"We are proud to congratulate this year's scholarship recipients and extend our heartfelt gratitude to the generous donors whose support makes these opportunities possible," said Cindy Flom-Meland, chair of UND's Department of Physical Therapy. "Their contributions are not only changing lives but inspiring the next generation of physical therapists. These scholarships recognize the hard work, dedication, and potential of our students, and we celebrate both the recipients' achievements and the donors' lasting impact on their futures."

Scholarship winners for the 2025-26 academic year from the area include:

PT Scholarship for Future Neuro Providers: Logan Redding, Donnybrook, ND

Awarded to a second- or third-year physical therapy student in good academic standing. Preference given to a student who emulates the American Physical Therapy Association (APTA) core values and has an interest in working with people with neurological health conditions.

Founded in 1967, UND's physical therapy program was the first accredited PT program in the state of North Dakota. Since 2006, the program has offered students a clinical doctorate: the Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) credential. To date, the program has produced more than 2,200 alumni specializing in everything from neurological and orthopedic PT to sports medicine, geriatric therapy, and pediatric therapy.
