When the Washburn Civic Club asked for comments and suggestions on how to make this a better town and to help in establishing community goals, the response was interesting and constructive. Among the suggestions were: a public library; better lights on Main Street; trading stamps; pioneer, historical museum; get a dentist; prohibiting garbage burning in the city; a leash law to answer to dog problem; enlarge memorial hall dining room. On what Washburn is to be commended for: parks, support of schools and teams; good churches; "No John Birch clubs"; paved streets; swimming pool; policemen; electrician; drug store; grocery stores; service stations; furniture store; very good fire department.

Stork Nordquist, Kenyon and Ronald Stevens returned last Wednesday from a mule deer hunting trip to Wyoming. They reported the hunt was very successful with everyone getting their deer.

The Washburn Cardinals placed two of its '75 season players on this year's Missouri Basin All Conference Team. Named were seniors Robert Holtan and Tracy Hanson, while Howell Flowers and Doug Carpenter received honorable mention.

Kim Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Nelson, was a contestant in the Miss Bismarck pageant Sunday evening. She was sponsored by Ramada Inn and was selected as Miss Congeniality.

Claudia Jane is the name chosen for a 5 pound 12 ounce daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Carr on November 10. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnson and Mrs. Alma Carr.

A parade, pageant, all-class reunion of Washburn High School and beef barbecue are all being discussed as events tentatively planned for the Bicentennial observance for the Washburn community. Dates have been set for June 25, 26 and 27.

The Cardinals are migrating again. Early this week Washburn prepared for its third annual fall trip north to Minot for the Sate Class B Girls' Basketball Tournament. The Cardinals turned back the Surrey Mustangs 54-50 last Tuesday night, earning the Region 6 Girls' Basketball Championship and their third consecutive trip to the State Class B. "Our experience has definitely been a key," says head coach Len Stanley. "I thought it definitely showed late in the game against Surrey, when we were down four. We didn't panic; we kept our poise and did what we had to do."

Staff reduction may be justified, the Washburn city commissioners deduced after reviewing a city wage and manpower study Monday. Commissioners Robert Hurni and Wayne Friese, who conducted a study, interviewed some local businesspeople on office salaries and duties. The recommendation from businesspeople was that times are tough and the city should cut back just as the businesses have. Their suggestion was to go with one full-time and one part-time person in the office.
