Local student named Coca-Cola Scholar semifinalist

Local high school senior Samantha Salazar has been named a Semifinalist for the 2026 Coca-Cola Scholars Program, moving to the next round of the selection process to become a Coca-Cola Scholar and receive a $20,000 college scholarship. A joint effort of Coca-Cola bottlers across the country and The Coca-Cola Company, the program is the largest corporate-sponsored, achievement-based scholarship program in the United States. With the addition of the 2026 class, the Coca-Cola Scholars Foundation will have provided more than 7,200 Coke Scholars nationwide with over $90 million in scholarships over the past 38 years.

“We believe that identifying these young leaders throughout the country and encouraging their passion for serving others not only empowers the students but also lifts up those around them,” said Jane Hale Paulsen, president of the Foundation. “The Coca-Cola system is dedicated to giving back to the communities they serve, and the Coca-Cola Scholars Foundation is proud to be a part of that commitment.”

Semifinalists are now invited to complete Phase 2 applications, which include essays, a recommendation, and a transcript. An independent selection committee will review applications and recommend 250 Regional Finalists in January for online interviews. Of those, 150 will be named Coke Scholars and attend Coca-Cola Scholars Weekend in Atlanta, Georgia, April 23–26, 2026, where they’ll be honored at the annual banquet and participate in the Leadership Development Institute led by program alumni.

In addition to scholarships, selected students join a vibrant and lifelong community of alumni—a nationwide network dedicated to creating positive change through mentorship, professional development, and collaboration.
