gins with a ATF Form 4473 and the National Instant Criminal Background Check System, or NICS Check. Within minutes, the check is completed. “Pending” background checks may take a few days.

For the Fischer’s, safety is the name of the game. “We promote safe, responsibly gun ownership,” Jared says. “We don’t want to batten the people who do enjoy the sport, the hobbies or collecting guns....we want to be safe, responsible and legal,” he continued.

Big-box stores often limit options with their restricted selection of firearm brands. In contrast, 701 Arms promotes exploring lesser-known brands in addition to the major brands, offering a more diverse range of choices.

“There are so many more out there that people don’t realize are great brands,” says Sarah.

“They’re great whether you’re experienced or you’re looking for your kids first hunting rifle,” Jared added. They note there are many budget-friendly firearms with the same quality as high-end brands.

With hunting season approaching, 701 Arms is gearing up for a busy season. They’re stocking up on new inventory, particularly rifles and shotguns, to cater to their customers’ needs. The Fischer’s are keen on finding customers deals, offers, and rebates to provide the best options.

Prioritizing customer convenience, 701 Arms offers flexible hours. Although both have full-time jobs, Jared and Sarah can accommodate busy schedules, ensuring customers can access their services even after regular business hours. “Even if you get off work at 8:00 in the evening, we can make it work for you to come get your items,” Jared says.

701 Arms license is a Type 07 FFL which allows sales as well as manufacturing of firearms. Although Jared and Sarah have not yet hit the point of building firearms, the possibility is there for the future. The Fischer’s are also willing to collaborate with local FFL holders, improving services and supporting the community.

The passion for firearms and the hobby of collecting them came at a young age for Jared. He reminisces on trap shooting when he was younger and the days of hunting with his dad, family, and friends. “Growing up around here everyone hunts... I just got into it more the older that I got. I made friends with people who would go hunting and were into collecting guns,” Jared says. “It kind of became an addiction and luckily I found a wife okay with my hobby.”

701 Arms sells new and used firearms, ammunitions, archery equipment, accessories, and other sporting goods at fair prices. They also buy and trade used firearms, offering a simple and hassle-free process. You can get more information at their website 701arms.com, or give them a call at (701) 850-6441 to get started. They also attend gun shows across North Dakota, making it convenient for customers to buy, sell, or learn more about firearms. Together they’ve transformed their hobby into a mission, helping others discover what they need with a focus on enjoyment, safety, and responsibility.

“Finding the gun that fits what they need it to do and that they love is what we enjoy,” Sarah says. “At the end of the day we are here to serve the people of Grant County, and the region” Jared added.
