Riding the Roller Coaster of Spring!

by Marvel Gross

In McIntosh County, Spring can feel like the highs and lows of riding the Wild Mouse at a Carnival! Wait - a roller coaster? Well, we start with a chill in the air and heavy clothes, but know that warmer weather is on the horizon. In March, we start getting excited about returning to the outdoors and begin to put the snow shovels and ice melt away. Then, just as we reach the peak of our expectations, a new round of cold air and an errant snowfall brings us hurtling back down to earth!

However, as we move further into Spring, tiny shoots pop their heads above the ground as the last of the snow melts. The Western Meadowlarks and the Robins bring their joyous songs.

The grass turns green, the lilacs bloom and the fruit trees blossom. Baby animals are sited everywhere and there are seeds to be planted.

We rocket along with the ups and downs of the changing weather - but at the end the glorious softness of the air and the budding of the trees leave us feeling exultant. Nature is a fickle beast, and like the Wild Mouse, the ride leaves us ready to jump out and see what comes next.

Our ride also takes us from the warmth and uplift of Mother's Day to the somber reflections of Memorial Day. And then the celebration of Father's Day. We revel in the gift of family created by our parents. And we remember the men and women who stepped forward to protect our freedoms. In those moments we are reminded of Sgt. Howard William Osterkamp's quote that "all gave some, but some gave all."

As we head towards our 250th anniversary, we remember that our ancestors came to America with a hope for a better life. They had their American Dream Story and succeeding generations still have one.

In the museum, we know that our exhibits are a compelling reminder of what times were like for our ancestors - and how far we have come. We share and preserve these American Dream Stories for future generations. Everything you see on display has a connection to people who currently live or have lived in this area - each with its own unique story.

During 2026, we hope you will come visit us at the McIntosh County Heritage Center - Walk among the exhibits and join us in celebrating our vibrant history!

To those of you who have been with us from the beginning, recently found out about us, or are just curious ... however you got here we are incredibly glad you did! Thank you.
