OLDTIMERS

70 Years Ago
Feb. 16, 1956

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmit and daughter Cindy moved here recently and are living in the residence vacated by the Merl Johannes family. Mr. Schmit is a carpenter and the family moved here from Mandan.

Fifteen ladies attended a pink and white shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Holtan with Mrs. Donald Nordquist as the assisting hostess. The party was in honor of Mrs. Robert Henne. A miniature pink and white bassinet served as the table centerpiece. Following a tasty lunch the group presented Mrs. Henne with a lovely assortment of gifts.

Three members of Washburn’s first Boy Scout troop saw three boys gain the coveted rank of Eagle Scout at a court of honor in connection with the annual Father-Son Banquet in Washburn last Wednesday evening. Howard Holtan, Russel Anderson and Henry Lorentzen attended the dinner and saw Bob and Bill Gehring and Garen Emrick receive their Eagle badges, pinned on by their mothers.

Every player on Washburn’s A team scored in the Cardinals’ 75-28 defeat of Wilton on Tuesday night. The Cardinals dominated the lead at all quarter stops, 11-4, 30-15, and 59-28. Four Washburn cagers scored in double numbers to lead the Cardinals to victory. Don Prouty, Paul Beeks, Don Scholl and John Hailey potted 19, 12, 10 and 10 points respectively.

Al Bauman’s Cardinals clinched their third straight conference title Tuesday night at Underwood when they defeated the Comets 47-35. Clay Carr and Wes Wessner led the balanced Washburn scoring attack with 10 points apiece. Tom Yellow Wolf was next with 9.

One of the finest class B basketball teams in the state will be invading the local court this Saturday when the St. Mary’s Saints of New England come to town. The Saints have been ranked in the top 5 teams throughout the season in the weekly AP poll.

Reports reaching Washburn this week from the neighboring city to the northwest tell that the Underwood Commercial Club’s basketball team is really working in preparation for the “Basketball Game of the Year,” scheduled for next Tuesday night, Feb. 22, at 8:30 p.m. at the Washburn Memorial Hall. Their opponents, the Washburn Civic Club (all a mystery, we understand) will be determined to retain the championship they won last year. Or did Underwood win??

WASHBURN

Washburn’s performance throughout the tournament was reflected in postseason honors as well. Kesia Boeshans was named to the District 8 All-Tournament Team, recognizing her standout contributions and impact on the Cardinals’ success during the event. The honor placed her among the district’s most effective performers across the tournament field.

The Cardinals also earned representation on the All-District Team, where Chev Obering received recognition for her season-long performance. Obering’s influence extended beyond statistical production, as her leadership and consistency helped anchor Washburn throughout the year.

In addition to all-district recognition, Obering received one of the highest honors awarded in District 8. She was named Co-Senior Athlete of the Year alongside Garrison’s Cara Schlehr, an award that highlights not only individual excellence but also leadership, competitiveness, and overall impact on a team’s success. The distinction underscored Obering’s importance to Washburn’s postseason push and her role as a cornerstone of the Cardinals’ lineup.

For Washburn, the district tournament served as both a proving ground and a springboard. The Cardinals showed they could compete with the district’s top teams, rebound from a close loss, and deliver a dominant performance when their season was on the line. That resilience will be crucial as they move into regional competition.

As the Region 4 Tournament approaches, Washburn carries momentum, confidence, and valuable postseason experience. With a strong defensive identity and players capable of stepping up in key moments, the Cardinals enter the next stage determined to continue their run and test themselves against the region’s best.
