Ardelle McIntyre reported that Tim and Kari Rasmusson have returned from a trip to Arizona in time to head to Fargo for the Prairie Grit sled hockey tournament for her great grandson, Lincoln Rasmusson. The Crimson Cruiser Red Hats met on Tuesday, March 3 at the M & K Pizza Hub with Judy Eslinger, Cindy Bartuska, Eleanor Ackerman, Diane Skalicky, Shirley Christensen, Wanda Rodin, Pam and Joannie Skaar, all of Kenmare;

MaryAnn Michel of Donnybrook; and Dee Haley of Bowbells. They had a great time. Mike Herman went to Crosby on Saturday to watch the Gymnastics Expo. He enjoyed watching Maja Frandsen, Josie and Audrey Klabo, Claus and Oliver Brodal perform. Anne Brodal's crew was also there to watch. Bonnie Nielsen spent time in Minot this week with Mary Stepheny. Darris and Lyann Olson traveled to Bismarck Saturday. They met the grandkids, Ella, Lillian and Daniel Rick, Jaxon and Leigha Roth, all of Bismarck and Wesley, Elliot and

Jacob Rick of Lignite at the hotel for swimming in the early afternoon. Then everyone, along with Eric and Julie Rick, Lauren Roth and Whitney Rick went to the VFW to celebrate Jaxon's sixth birthday with pizza and cake before the Bobcats-Shamrocks NAHL game (Gerald was at drill and Garrett was preparing for the hockey game). Eric, Julie, Lyann and Ella went to Wachter School to attend Lillian's musical "Frozen." She played the part of Young Elsa which included a solo. Afterwards they went back to the rink to see the exciting end to the game. The Bobcats tied the game 1-1 with 16 seconds left, then won in overtime. A perfect ending to a great day.

10 Reasons Why Classical Christian Education Is Needed in Today's World

#6: Because Parents and Teachers Should Work Together
Many parents feel disconnected from what happens in their child's classroom. They are unsure what is being taught or why certain choices are made. This can create frustration and concern.

Christian Crossroads Academy in Stanley approaches education as a partnership. Parents and teachers work together with shared values and a shared purpose. Clear communication and mutual trust are essential.

Families are supported, not replaced. Teachers respect the role parents play as primary guides in their children's lives. When home and school reinforce the same truths, children benefit greatly.

This partnership creates consistency and peace. Children feel secure when the adults in their lives are aligned. Parents gain confidence knowing their values are honored. Education works best when families and teachers pull in the same direction, helping children grow with clarity, encouragement, and purpose.
