Huge success of Eagles celebration reflected in numbers

By Neil O. Nelson

Everything about the 75th anniversary of Aerie Eagles 3080 in Harvey last week was impressive, from the number of people who walked through the doors to the food prepared and served every night. Additionally, distinguished guests included the Eagles’ national president and the fraternal organization’s highest ranking state officers. Everything went off without a hitch, according to manager Eric Hansen.

“Seems like we were busy all day, very day.”

The numbers speak for themselves, Hansen added.

More than 1,700 visited the Harvey Eagles Club during the January 19-24, 2026, anniversary celebration.

On the celebration’s first night – Monday – 168 steaks were served. Extending a special invitation to Harvey’s business community, 475 burgers were served Tuesday.

Guests for Wednesday’s ‘supper night’ numbered 170.

Thursday’s ‘wing night’ crowd snapped up 281 pounds of wings and 25 pizzas.

The 300 supper guests Friday night were entertained by ventriloquist James Wedgewood.

Another 150 danced to the band Backstage Pass on Saturday night.

Budweiser picked up 22 empty kegs on Monday.

Eagles management and staff were assisted during the evening suppers by Harvey High School seniors and local 4-H members.

“We can’t thank those kids enough,” said Hansen.

Winner of the $750 bingo Tuesday night was Morgan Kukowski.

Dave Wooster, from the state of Michigan, was the visiting national president. Ron Keller and Janine Anderson were the state Eagles’ president and auxiliary president present for the Friday night supper.

The three special guests lauded Harvey Eagles manager Eric Hansen, gaming manager Brandt Jenner and the Aerie 3080 members for the hospitality, fine food and genuine ‘good will’ displayed the moment they stepped through the front door, said Eagles Auxiliary president Janine Anderson.

“We felt so welcomed. Everything was perfect. We thoroughly enjoyed ourselves.”

Said national president Dave Wooster: “Harvey has an outstanding club. Brandt has always done a great job. And I’m impressed with Eric Hansen. I don’t know if the week could have gone any smoother.”

State Eagles president Ron Keller was similarly impressed. “I’m aware of the job they do here. So I’m not surprised. The club’s membership and management are recognized across the state.”
